

Dear Potential Volunteer:

Thank you for your interest in providing volunteer services to Nevada Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (“Nevada SPCA”), a non-profit organization. Nevada SPCA operates a no-kill animal shelter, promotes humane education, and challenges people to be the best possible guardians for the companion animals in their care. Nevada SPCA works to achieve our adoption goals by treating each animal as an individual, with a name instead of a number. We strive to match each rescued animal with people by personality and lifestyle in order to have the best chance to find a forever home. Our volunteers are an essential part of this effort.

The success of our volunteer program is not only measured by the dedication of time given by our remarkable volunteers, but by the many selfless acts they contribute to make life better for the animals in our care. On any given day, Nevada SPCA’s headquarters is home to many rescued animals. Besides many cats and dogs, Nevada SPCA rescues and adopts numerous other species of domesticated animals, including rabbits, guinea pigs, gerbils, hamsters, ferrets, and many more. Our shelter, located at 4800 W. Dewey Drive, operates with many animals on a daily basis, so every volunteer helps us reach our goal of bringing another animal in need into the safety of Nevada SPCA.

In order to become a volunteer, you must first fill out a volunteer application. If your application is approved, you will be asked to attend a volunteer orientation, where you will learn more about our organization’s mission, as well as our expectations of those who choose to volunteer. Please note that Nevada SPCA reserves the right to terminate a volunteer relationship at any time. We truly believe you will find volunteering with Nevada SPCA a rewarding experience and we look forward to meeting you!
